Universities in Transition:

Blending Online & Offline Learning

4 - 5 August 2015 | 8.30 am – 5.30 pm | Wisma R&D, UM

Higher education learning philosophy has made a quantum shift to blended learning and flipped classrooms. The possibilities are endless and educators are spoilt for choice in terms of tools and technologies - both online and offline - that they can deploy. The symposium is designed to help educators match the learning philosophy to the right tools and technologies. Join us in this 2-day symposium and learn from the experts with hands-on opportunities to design learning experiences that will engage your students and encourage them to explore limitless learning possibilities.
