“Green Urban Development should involve systematically with urban planning and architecture of the overall development of a comprehensive and balancing society. The urban sustainability also takes into account the impact on the environment, including the use of energy, natural water resources and waste.”

ABOUT THE URBAN ENVIRONMENTAL ACCORDS (UEA)

The Urban Environmental Accords is an international collaborative organization working to develop the Urban Environmental Evaluation Index together with UNEP, and apply it to cities worldwide.

The UEA was established on June 5, 2005 in the City and County of San Francisco on the occasion of World Environment Day, at a gathering of representatives from 53 cities under the agreement that each city would autonomously implement the accords, comprising 21 actions across seven key areas, and evaluate the outcomes.
