The Seminar

Given the many natural and artificial divisions among people everywhere, the purpose of this seminar is to look at methods that help individuals communicate honestly, effectively, and with purpose. The main objective is to discuss how to bring people together to create mutual understanding and to eventually influence the organizations and communities they represent to further positive widespread interpersonal engagement at the interpersonal, organizational and community levels.

The Speaker

Professor Dr John Nirenberg - has served as a dean, professor, consultant, and writer seeking to uncover the principles that result in eupsychian organizations – psychologically healthy, creative, productive and satisfying workplaces. Currently, John is a Fulbright Specialist and a consultant to organizations with T-Quad. Formerly, he was Professor of Leadership and Organizational Change and a mentor to doctoral students at Walden University where every dissertation must contribute to positive social change.

John is the author of Global Leadership (Capstone/Wiley); Power Tools: A Leader's Guide to the Latest Management Thinking (Prentice Hall); and, The Living Organization: Transforming Teams Into Workplace Communities, published jointly by Irwin Professional Books and Pfeiffer and Co. His articles have appeared in professional and academic journals on five continents.

He has lived in Japan, Malaysia, Singapore, Australia and Thailand for almost ten years where he was an educator and consultant. While in Malaysia, he edited his book on Aspects of Management in Malaysia. It was the first management book in Malaysia that integrated Malaysian cultural influences with conventional management principles.
